WIDOW WINS SUIT FOR COMPENSATION

Jury Deliberates 40 Minutes To Decide Injury Caused Husband's Death.

Elsie H. Stratton is entitled to participate in workman's compensation because of the death of her husband Arthur V. Stratton, April 19, 1931. A jury in common pleas court decided yesterday afternoon after deliberating 40 minutes. The amount of compensation the widow should receive was not a concern of the jury. It will be fixed by the industrial commission, providing the Marion Steam Shovel Co. defendant in the action brought by Mrs. Stratton, does not carry the case to higher courts.

No witnesses were called for the trial, testimony given before the industrial commission in Mrs. Stratton's original effort to obtain compensation being submitted to the jury instead of testimony of new witnesses.

According to testimony of Mrs. Stratton and others before the industrial commission, which refused to allow her compensation, her husband died from a cancerous condition after suffering a bruise from the handle of a reamer while working at the Marion Steam Shovel Co.

The law firm of Carhart, Warner & Carhart represented Mrs. Stratton. The shovel company was represented by the law firm of Guthery, Strelitz & Guthery.

Files Answer

The Campbell National bank of LaRue, upon being made a defendant in the case by order of Judge George B. Scofield, filed in common pleas court yesterday an answer and cross petition in the case of Clarence Salter against Elsie Crammer and others. The bank asserts that it obtained judgment for $119.10 against Howard Sprague and John Crammer some time ago.

Daily Proverb—"A hundred years can not repay a moment's loss of honor."

Mark Sullivan says that "mechanical invention has achieved nearly everything but making people think." Has it made them happy, Mark?

The Home Telephone company, of Plattsburg, Clark county, has asked the state utilities commission for authority to reduce its rates twenty-five cents a month on all classes of service and discount all bills twenty-five cents a month when paid promptly. Positively revolutionary!

The rule still holds good down in Australia.
Every time the government has gone into business to compete against private enterprise, it has suffered heavy loss and missed matters up generally. The latest loss is that of $180,000-000 on her railroad venture. Government-run enterprises, Australia might have learned from our sad federal and state experiences, are doomed to be costly.

Judging by the volume of matter being sent out by Governor Pinchot in the hope of persuading the country that he is presidential timber, the state of Pennsylvania may have to meet a whacking big stationery bill one of these days; unless, of course, the Hon. Gif comes across personally for it, which it's hard to see a politician in office doing.

According to the figures of the census bureau in Washington, the taxes of Yorkers, New York, increased 206 per cent. in thirteen years—from $24.08 per capita in 1917 to $65.08 in 1930—the net per capita indebtedness having increased from $94.38 in 1917, to $178.49 in 1929 and $187.30 in 1930. The latter figures show the cause, and the former the effect. And the Yorkers situation is the situation, in somewhat greater or less degree, in most American cities.

The Business of Medicine.

The story of Dr. W. L. Henderson, who labored twenty-nine years among the people of McKeesport, Pennsylvania, keeping them well, making them better and easing them in death, is another stone in the monument to the general practitioner. Dr. Henderson died a few days ago, leaving an estate of $25,000 in unpaid accounts and less than $800 in cash for his widow. It was his rule never to send a bill.

There is likely to be more praise than censure for this professional man who could not be a business man at the same time. Discussions of doctors' management of their business affairs frequently exaggerate the "nobility" of purpose which prompts so much unselfish service by members of the profession. The impression is left in unquestioning minds that the doctor who proves to be a good business man as well as a good physician is somehow violating his professional ethics.

The desirability of systems which remove business responsibility from the loaded shoulders of doctors is argued more and more often.
State medicine is a phrase which is coming to have a more sympathetic audience. Strangely enough, however, it is not advocated so often as a means of protecting the doctor, who is not a good business man, as it is advocated as a means of restraining the doctor, who is too good a business man.

This lopsided emphasis is not hard to explain. The public critic does not talk about things that reflect discredit on the public, including himself. He aims his barbs at practices that reflect discredit on minority groups which have relations with the public. He does not criticize himself and his friends, for instance, because they contribute to bad politics by their attitudes, but he does criticize what he can see—the bad politicians.

Naturally, therefore, the fact that overcharges are made by doctors in isolated cases is more likely to attract attention than the more important fact that the general public's propensity for beating doctor bills is the source of the medical profession's business worries and a good share of its occasionally doubtful business practices. The case of Dr. Henderson, who worked a lifetime and died leaving $25,000 in unpaid bills, serves a good purpose as a reminder that there are two sides to the question of doctor bills.

The German Election.

Judging by press comment and utterances of political leaders, there is decided gratification the world over as a result of the splendid showing made by President Paul von Hindenburg in the election of Sunday in Germany.
While the power of Adolf Hitler must not be underestimated, the fact that he ran more than 7,000,000 votes behind the 18,661,736 cast for the grizzled war veteran may be taken not only as a great personal tribute to President von Hindenburg, but also, and of far greater import, that the people of Germany are not ready to adopt a policy of repudiation or chase after any will-o-the-wisp suggested to them.

Comparison of the votes cast for the different candidates in Sunday's election with the votes cast for the candidates of the same parties in recent elections justifies the assumption that the leading two candidates drew strength from other parties; Hitler from the Nationalist and the president from the reds. Communists pay the aged president at least the tribute of their respect, while their hatred of Hitler could hardly be surpassed. Is this situation which may in part explain the failure of the reds to make an impressive showing, their vote being but 4,982,979. As Von Hindenburg failed of election by but one-half of one per cent, of the votes cast, which means by something less than 170,000 votes, there can be but little doubt of the outcome of the run-off between him and Hitler April 10, when the next act is due. It is almost as good as assured that the communists, under the circumstances, will be solidly against the Austrian who so lately gained German citizenship.

One phase of last Sunday's election should offer ground to the voters of the United States for deep thought. Germany, with a population of slightly over 62,000,000 cast a total of 37-669,377 votes almost 1,000,000 more than were cast in the last presidential election in this country by a people of 122,000,000. There is little ground for pride on the part of Americans to be had from the comparison.

From Paris comes word that the war veterans of France may return the visit paid their country by the American legion, several years ago. If nothing else, that would be a gracious gesture of appreciation.

Millennium or Cataclysm?

The value of publicity in the Lindbergh kidnapping case has been discussed freely. It has been shown how publicity started a national man-hunt for the kidnappers. It also has been claimed that had Colonel Lindbergh not notified police and revealed the startling news of his son's disappearance the case would have been ended by this time because the kidnappers could have negotiated for the ransom without danger.

This line of reasoning, based entirely on supposition, was given support by no less a personage than Governor A. Harry Moore, of New Jersey. Governor Moore proposed in all seriousness that the press drop the case for a few weeks because publicity no longer was of direct value to the police. In connection with the proposal, it is no more than fair to recall that the police have been the source of news in the kidnapping case. Confusion of stories so noticeable in the case's development wasn't entirely accidental. It is the old police game of strategic deception, which newspapers are helpless to stop.

Concerning Governor Moore's suggestion that the press withdraw, newspapers are willing to let Editor and Publisher, one of their own trade magazines, speak for them.

"That view of the newspaper function goes hand in hand with the governmental philosophy which has surrendered to gangdom 'almost every public function except the raising of taxes and the regulation of traffic. It would reduce the press, the only remaining articulate organ of society, to the level of voiceless impotence now so evident in business and politics. When newspapers agree that sound public policy makes news the instrument of police work, and so guide their operations, it will be time for those who still have faith in a democratic or republican form of government to man the barricades. . . . When crime in all its aspects ceases to be news, we'll either have the millennium or the end of the American republic."

The Washington Star is said to be more generous with its space, each Saturday, in giving advance notices of church services for the following day than any other paper in the country. The publishers possibly realize to the full the dire need for religious guidance in Washington.

Moral Victory.

Two hundred and twenty-seven members of the house of representatives were not willing to let a proposed constitutional amendment to supplant the eighteenth amendment come to a vote Monday afternoon in their branch of congress. Among them was Speaker John Garner, who is being boomed for a presidential nomination. Mr. Garner took advantage of a custom of the house which leaves the speaker free to vote if he chooses.

Nothing was gained or lost directly by the vote. The status of prohibition was not changed an iota; the most anti-prohibitionists can claim is a mild moral victory. They got more votes for their side than they expected; it was a good fight against an opponent to whom victory had been conceded far in advance. The purpose of the vote was to put congressmen on record, and it did, after a fashion.

Indirect losses will be calculated between now and the closest congressional elections.
Those who voted against discharging the judicial committee from consideration of the bill proposing the amendment may discover that they underestimated anti-prohibition sentiment in their districts. Those who voted for the resolution, and tried to retain an appearance of dryness at the same time by explaining that they are willing to let the people decide by voting on an amendment may discover that their strategy was wrong. The safest are those who, representing districts which are known to be wet, were enabled to place themselves on record once more as champions of that cause.

DIESEL ENGINES IN BATTLESHIPS.
According to the London correspondent of Marine Engineering, the Germans will have the first battleship driven by Diesel engines.
At Augsburg in Bavaria the Deutschland's engines were recently tested with apparent satisfaction to the builder and the German navy.
The eight engines develop a total of 54,000 horsepower, and a mighty clatter they set up during the shop run. But noise means little on a fighting vessel.

The whole battleship must be considered in the light of its propelling machinery. Weights and space are nicely calculated. On one side, we have guns and armor; on the other engines, fuel and non-military necessities. Marine engines are heavy. Those of fast passenger liners rarely weigh less than 120 pounds for each horsepower. If Marine Engineering's correspondent is right in stating that the weight of the Deutschland's engines is about twenty-nine pounds to the horsepower, including the necessary accessories, the Germans must be credited with a real triumph in designing. More weight is gained for guns and armor.

There is probably a connection between this German experiment and the announcement of an Italian company that it contemplates building a 50,000-ton Diesel passenger ship of at least 120,000 horsepower to travel at record-breaking speeds. Times are none too good for steamship companies, and we may have to wait long before the Bremen or Europa will be surpassed by some Diesel liner. High-speed engines usually require reduction gearing or electric motors to drive the propellers at the correct speed. This is the chief reason why Diesels have not yet competed with the steam-turbine for the blue ribbon of the seas. The Deutschland engines require no reduction gearing. Their performance will therefore be closely studied by all the large steamship companies.—New York Times.

BEER AND THE VOLSTEAD LAW.

Not only moderate wets but moderate dries, as well as citizens who have remained neutral on the prohibition issue, can afford to approve a resolution adopted unanimously by the executive committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce. That resolution urges congress to amend the Volstead law legalizing 2.75 per cent beer. It asks all trade organizations and chambers of commerce to go on record explicitly in favor of the suggested amendment.

The association thus advances a proposal which is legally and morally sound. The Volstead definition of intoxicants is arbitrary and unscientific. Congress, as is indicated by decisions of the United States supreme court which emphasize the broad powers of the national lawmakers in interpreting the eighteenth amendment to the federal constitution, has the power to adopt a rational definition of intoxicants. Few persons who have studied the subject with open minds will hold that 2.75 per cent beer is intoxicating in fact.

Further, legalizing of 2.75 per cent. beer would be a genuine temperance measure. It would deprive criminal gangsters of the chief part of their illicit revenue. It would help materially to remedy the national treasury deficit and enable congress to reduce the new taxes which are felt to be oppressive. It would be an important anticrime measure. Whatever weakens the criminal gangs and their commerce with citizens otherwise law-abiding tends to strengthen the cause of public order and to increase respect for the principles of representative government.—Chicago News.

Speech Defects in Children.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
Recently I talked with a beautiful child about eight years of age. She was healthy and fully developed physically, but had one serious defect—she stuttered. Although her parents were aware of the condition, little had been done to correct it.

There are more than one million school children in this country, between the ages of five and eighteen, who have marked defects in speech. Six per cent of the public school children in New York City suffer from some form of speech defect.

Stuttering, which is the most common form of speech defect, is now believed to be due to nervousness and not, as formerly, to defective organs of speech. Other forms of speech defect are caused by some definite physical defect, such as cleft palate, hare lip, tongue tip, imperfect teeth, enlargement of tonsils and adenoids, nasal growth or broken nose.

To correct a speech defect of any of these disorders it is necessary to remove the underlying cause. Children with defective speech are often cured when enlarged tonsils and adenoids are removed, or when nasal deformities are corrected. If a child has a noticeable speech defect, he should be thoroughly examined by a physician to determine the possible cause.

When there is difficulty in speech and no underlying cause can be found, the child should receive special instruction, and this should be given as early as possible. Children of school age should attend classes where corrective speech work is given.

The work in these classes consists of special programs, production of plays, assembly programs, group discussions and verse reading.
Dramatic work, debating and other public speaking activities form a valuable part in overcoming speech defects, and these activities should be encouraged.

Correction of speech should be sought at home as well as at school. When a child makes mistakes in speech, or stammers, correct him, but do so in a kindly way. Never scold him for any speech defect, or for slowness in speech.

Children who stammer and stutter are easily confused and become self-conscious. They avoid company for fear of ridicule and embarassment. When this condition is overlooked, school work is retarded and the child is unhappy. Every attempt must be made to help these children adjust themselves, so that they will not be handicapped in later life.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

J.B. Q.—What can be done for a condition where there seems to be a constant lump in the stomach no matter how little is eaten?

A.—This is probably due to improper diet repeat your question.

A.B. Q.—I have a seven months old baby who is ruptured. He has worn a belt or support for six months without results. What should I do now?

A.—Have further examination. It is possible that the condition calls for an operation. Your doctor will advise you.

Mrs. J.M.W. Q.—What causes blisters on the

A.—This may be due to acid in the system.
Correct your diet and avoid constipation. Send Venice Going Modern.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE
Rome, March 15.—Within a few weeks Venice will no longer be closed to automobiles. The new bridge, being built, side by side with the old iron railroad bridge, for so long the only link with the mainland, is growing apace and will soon be finished.

Then cars, pushbikes and walkers can go across to and from Mestre—and terra firma.
The cars will be garaged at the bridge head, on the Venice end, but will not be able to enter the heart of the city, as the narrow streets with their tiny bridges over the canals are quite incapable of carrying them. But all cars will be able to enter Venice.

There has been a great fight about this, and it lasted twenty years. The conservatives who wanted to keep their ancient city as it was in the middle ages and the progressives, headed by Count Vajani, former finance minister, urged the need to attract travelers who come by car and to let men and women who work on the mainland to go on foot if they want to, instead of using the little steam boats or the railway.
There was much the same sort of fight seventy years ago when devastating progressives wanted the railway—and got it.

The fight over automobiles has been even fiercer, and Mussolini was asked to arbitrate.
He, of course, favored progress. And a couple of years ago the new bridge was started. It will carry a double railroad line, a broad double sidewalk, a track for push bikes, and a motor track. The ugly old iron railroad bridge will vanish as, later on, will the other ugly iron bridge over the Grand canal.

Venice's new bridge is built of Istrian stone reinforced with concrete. It is as high as the Rialto at its highest point and in no way spoils the landscape.

There is another scheme for cutting through the Grand canal in such a way as to make a short cut for launches between St. Mark's square and the railway depot and take off traffic congestion on the Grand canal.

And as its execution will mean pulling down a whole zone of picturesque old lanes and houses, there is a fight about that, too. The architects on the progressives' side have ready their plans for putting up apartment houses ten stories high, which in Venice would be skyscrapers, and very loud is the outcry against them.

Josephine Baker, the variety star, known in Paris as the "Black Venus," had a triumphal entry into Milan. Several hundred college boys went to the station to meet her, gave her a venerous ovation as she stepped from the train, took her up in their arms and carried her to the carriage which they had smothered in the rarest flowers. They started pulling her round the town, but they were so eager to have the honor that the carriage was broken and Josephine had to be rescued from its ruins and carried into a mere auto car.

Josephine, who is married to an Italian, says she loves Italy and its sunshine. She played to crowded houses here, where she had not been seen before.

When Salaries Cut Less Figure.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH
In June, 1817, soon after he had come to Worthington and had been established as rector of St. John's Episcopal church, Rev. Philander Chase was elected head of the Worthington academy.

His contract was a curious one, a very particular feature of it in these days when hard and fast stipulations are made as to compensation in such cases, being that he was to receive no fixed compensation. It was up to him to make it pay or not, for he was to have the tuition fees.

The contract bears the date of June 6, 1817, and reads as follows:

"The trustees of the Worthington academy, of the first part, propose and agree that Rev.
Philander Chase, rector of St. John's church, should take charge of such academy and have direction of the course of instruction and of all those who shall be employed as teachers, as well as of those who shall be received as students therein, and do appoint and empower the said Philander Chase principal or president of said academy with all the rights or immunities to said office belonging.

"And the aforesaid Rev. Philander Chase, of the second part, agrees to accept the office of president and to have charge of said academy, as aforesaid, and in person shall teach those placed in said institution to study the learned languages and other classical pursuits; and for said teaching and general charge of the institution will accept and receive the tuition bills of such clerical, or Greek or Latin scholars, as the same are or shall be fixed by the authority of said academy, in place of all other consideration or reward, until it shall be otherwise agreed."

One year after Rev. Mr. Chase entered into this contract, he was elected bishop of Ohio—the first P. E. bishop of the state.

Kept Secret 21 Years.

By International News Service
NUERNBERG—On his deathbed George Blachof, 75, an esteemed manufacturer, confessed to a police captain he had called to his room that he had murdered his brother-in-law, Peter Gelsinger, 21 years ago. The murder caused a sensation. Police found the body in a swamp. At no time was Blachof even suspected, and the crime went down on the books as unsolved. "If you would have caught some one and sent him up for my crime, I should have confessed," the dying man told the police. "But since no innocent life was in danger I thought I'd continue to live a useful life."

How to Escape FLU and Grippe

1. Avoid so far as possible the places where germs are most likely to be spread; overcrowded cars and public meeting places; overheated, stuffy rooms.
2. Be careful of close contact with others and beware of all coughs and sneezers; breathe through the nose, get fresh air, but avoid drafts or chilling.
3. Get lots of rest. Drink plenty of water. Keep the bowels open. Take extra precaution to keep in good physical condition, so your system will have normal resistance against germs.
4. Try, particularly, to avoid catching cold. Colds lower your resistance to disease germs. At the first sign of any cold, take Bayer Aspirin; remain indoors if possible until your cold is gone. And if you have a sore throat, dissolve some Bayer Aspirin tablets in water and gargle; this relieves the soreness, and it usually reduces the inflammation.
5. If you have any reason to suspect even a touch of flu, call your doctor at once.

VALUE—What causes city property to be more valuable per square foot than farm property?

TRANSPORTATION—The answer is Transportation—the city is there because of transportation.

WEALTH—The real wealth of the whole United States is its actual resources rendered useful to the people by the greatest and most efficient transportation scheme so far achieved.

THE RAILROADS—The more prosperity of the railroads the greater their possible contribution by advancement—by service—by employment and use of materials, to all the country. The interests are mutual—so the better each understands the other, the greater the benefit to all.

THE BIG FOUR desires to understand and to cooperate to the greatest extent with the people it serves.

The Stars Say—

THE astral influences dominating the affairs of this day make for much excitement, stirring about and enterprise. This may have many angles of complexity and tumult, although with well-directed effort there is gain in success, increased popularity and prestige, especially in the favor of those in important positions. It is a good time for approaching these for cooperation and practical assistance. There may be some anxiety about illness or elderly persons. Make changes cautiously.

Those whose birthday it is may have a very lively, enterprising and eventful year, with profit and advancement in business, accompanied by the active cooperation of those in high places. There may be personal anxiety about elders. A child born on this day should be splendidly equipped mentally, be energetic, resourceful and constructive. It should prosper through its own initiative as well as at the hands of those in places of power and authority.

TEARS WIN SUCCESS

Because it's easy for her to burst into tears, Cora Sue Collins is in the movies. She's 4 years old, and has brown eyes and curly hair.

HOLLYWOOD — Four-year-old Cora Sue Collins can't exactly be called a "cry-baby," but she can shed tears at will.

And largely because it's no trick for her to cry, Cora Sue has made an auspicious start on a film career that promises to bring her prominent parts in movies in the next few years.

Cora Sue is a naive little miss with brown eyes and curls. She was one of the principals in "The Unexpected Father," and now because of her ability to cry when she wants to she has a part in "The Strange Case of Clara Deane."

But the road to a movie career hasn't been smooth for Cora Sue and her mother, Mrs. Clyde Collins. They were residents of Clarksburg, W. Va., until a few months ago.

The neighbors all said Cora Sue should be in the movies. The Collins family had had financial reverses, however, and getting to Hollywood was a problem. But Mrs. Collins was undaunted, and she managed to get enough money together for railroad fare, with a little left over.

The mother, Mrs. Clyde Collins, and Cora Sue's 10-year-old sister Madge set out for Hollywood. But more trouble awaited.

clothes has not been completed, Mr. Evans said yesterday.

Some time in the week previous to the instrumental extended at Foster on April 15, the orchestra will play a program at Harding High school. The choral groups will enter an extended at Findlay on April 22, and their music appreciation programs will be given prior to that date.

The last number on the orchestra program, "Symphony in G Minor," first movement, by Mozart, is the number which will be played at the extended.

Programs for the orchestra carry the numbers to be played and an illustration of the seating arrangement of the orchestra.

The orchestra numbers are "Prelude to L'Arlesienne Suite" by Bizet, "Paradise" from "L'Arlesienne Suite" by Bizet, "The Swan" by Saint-Saens and the extended selection.

A brass quartet, John Snow, first trumpet, William Ford, second trumpet, Marvin Howe, French horn, and Gloyd Dearth, baritone, is on the program to play "Shap-herd's Sunday Song" by Krutser.

O. S. U. TO CONDUCT EXTENSION COURSE

Marion One of 12 Cities in Ohio To Get Classes in Economic Subjects.

Marion is one of 12 Ohio cities which will offer extension courses in business training during the spring quarter by the department of commerce extension at Ohio State university, Dr. T. L. Kibler, director, announced today.

The classes will start here on March 23 and 24. A class in negotiable instruments will begin on March 23 and on the following night classes in investment analysis will start. All classes will be conducted at Harding High school.

Heavier demand for courses in economics and business than for courses in any other field is reported in extension work at the university on a basis of returns from other leading American schools.

The classes, directed by the university faculty, will be conducted each week and will be open to residents of nearby communities as well as those of Marion.

Two factors figure largely in the increased demand for business training, Dr. Kibler said. They are the increased complexities of modern business necessitating more highly specialized training and the greater demand as a result of the depression, for persons whose experience, training and viewpoint enable them to comprehend problems of the new business era and to grapple with them intelligently and effectively.

Persons may attend the first meeting of each class without obligation.

BELIEVE SNOW AID TO WHEAT

Farmers Say Blanket Helps Prevent Damage from Freezing.

Farmers in Marion and surrounding counties in a few days will be busy determining whether, as some of them say, a wheat crop was saved by the blanket in last week's cold snap. Farm work was halted by the severity of the wintry weather.

At the near zero temperatures, farmers attempted to destroy the wheat by covering it with a blanket. Farmers are convinced that the blanket of protecting the wheat from serious damage. The blanket was thrown and freezing temperatures have been injurious, and farmers are waiting a day or two to see just what extent the damage was before committing themselves about the safety of their crops.

New-born pigs, lambs and calves were claimed as part of winter's toll. There were reports of many losses of this nature. Fruit trees were also reported damaged in several instances.

From Hardin county came reports of damaged winter wheat due to lack of a heavy snow with the bitter cold winds. Farmers in this section were fortunate in this respect, as the heavy snowfall left a white mantle two or three inches thick.

FLASHES OF LIFE

By The Associated Press

BOSTON.—Police Sergeant John P. M. Wolfe was bitten by a drunken man, a dog and a cat. Each time he recovered. Then he bit his tongue and died of septic poisoning. So Mayor James H. Curley granted his widow an annuity.

MOBILE, Ala.—Bess Brooks expects any judge who hears his case to know his etiquette. Testifying as a defendant in a divorce action, Rezo noticed the judge had tilted his chair backward toward him. "Will you please turn around? I'm not accustomed to addressing any one's back." The judge refused to hear the case further.

MERRICK, N. Y.—Policeman John Kreutzler, slightly damaged, returned to his station house in a police car, also slightly damaged. He had a set-to with Sally, a cow. "While the officer was trying to lasso cow, she butted same continuously," he wrote in his report.

NEW YORK.—Twenty-five families who had wondered where the next can of beans was coming from dined on caviar, turkey and steak today. Federal agents raided the Felt Riche, swanky speakeasy-restaurant, and gave the larder to charity.

JAP MISS HONORED

Such brilliance did Miss Yashio Togasaki show in her work at the University of California that after she received her degree of science she was appointed city bacteriologist for Berkeley, Calif. The young Japanese miss, the first of her race to be thus honored in the United States, is now at the Johns Hopkins university at Baltimore, Md., taking a medical course.

NEW SMALL BUICK ON DISPLAY HERE

1932 Model Marks Entry of Company into $1,000 Price Class.

A new 1932 eight-cylinder Buick selling at $1,065 delivered, is on display at the showroom of the Danner Buick Co. on north Main street.

The car, placed on display this week, is the lowest priced Buick since the four cylinder machine. Danner said today. The new car is a 3500-pound machine and marks the entry of the company into the $1,000 price class, with an eight-cylinder car.

Wizard control, a Buick feature, is also a part of the new car. The new control, the manufacturers say, includes the automatic clutch, silent second, synchro-mesh transmission and free wheeling. A sloping windshield, dual horns, slim radiator shell, hood doors and single-bar bumpers, are also being offered in the new car.

Entire Trip Through East for Contest Winners Will Be Planned in Advance

Even the Smallest Detail Will Be Arranged Before Students Leave Here.

Everyone is asking "What definite plans have been made for the 12 winners of the travel contest?" The winners of the contest, the Erie railroad and the Marion Star, sponsors of the contest, have outlined an itinerary complete in every detail. Today and for the next several special Wednesday issues of The Star, stories will be devoted to interesting facts about the travel tour.

Today's issue carries the list of entrants in the contest and the first standings. These results will be published each Wednesday during the 10 weeks of the contest. Every $1 spent in a Marion store participating in the contest, is worth 100 votes to the junior and senior high school pupils who are entered from Marion and 35 surrounding communities.

The trip has been planned on such a large scale to be taken in only 5 days, that each day will be filled with new and exciting experiences. The winning students will have five days, absolutely free of any cost, in New York City, Washington, D. C., Mount Vernon and Alexandria, Va.

Trip Begins June 17. Friday night, June 17, the special Pullman bearing the winners, their chaperones and a limited number of parents and teachers will pull out of Union depot, headed east for the "great adventure." One train convenience, which seasoned travelers will recognize and appreciate in an instant, will be given the travelers. According to the plans no one will have to sleep in an upper berth. The "uppers" will be used for luggage and every one will occupy "lowers."

The train will arrive in New Jersey Saturday afternoon and a ferry will transport the travelers to the special bus which will be waiting for them at New York City. The hotel, where reservations and meals will be ordered in advance, will be reached about 4.30 in the afternoon. A 6.30 dinner will be served.

A two hour and a half floor show will be given in the hotel dining room following dinner, and will be free to the contest group. After that, it will be to bed for a good night's rest before starting on a round of sight-seeing Sunday.

Special care was made in planning the Sunday tour, in order that everyone might attend church services. The Protestant members of the party will be taken to the beautiful new Cathedral of St. John the Divine, one of the world's masterpieces of church architecture, and the Catholic members will be taken to St. Patrick's cathedral.

Tour of City. After the church services will begin one of the most interesting journeys of the trip—"Seeing Greater New York." For three hours and a half the party will tour upper and lower New York, seeing the places that columns and columns have been written about.

The tour will begin at the famous Times building at 42nd street and Broadway. The first division of the tour will be in upper New York. The route includes Fifth avenue, the palatial homes of John D. Rockefeller Sr., Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, F. W. Woolworth, Vincent Astor, Andrew Carnegie, Harry Payne Whitney, James B. Duke, Charles M. Schwab and many others.

Central Park and Riverside drive are on the tour and at Grant's tomb a 10 minute stop will be made. Manhattan viaduct with its view of the Hudson river, the Palisades, the new George Washington memorial bridge with its longest span in the world, Columbia university, the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, the Knickerbocker club, the Egyptian obelisk, St. Luke's hospital, the house occupied by the British war

EMBASSY WEDDING

A romance that flowered in the Far East reached a happy climax when Matilda Moulton, beautiful St. Louis, Mo., society girl, was married in the American embassy at Tokyo, Japan, to Charles Lee, a prosperous Hong Kong business man. Here was the first wedding ceremony ever performed in the embassy. The bride was given away by U. S. Ambassador W. Cameron Forbes.

Gets "Battle" Award.

By International News Service. ROME—Mussolini has sent a prize to Monsignor Giovanni Jacopo, bishop of Caltanissetta for his splendid work in helping on the "Battle of the Wheat," which consists in growing as much wheat as possible in the country so as to save the expense of importing from America and Russia. The bishop joined the local wheat growing union and personally instructed farmers how to grow wheat on modern lines and get the best possible value out of their land.

Bus Tour of New York City To Be Crowded with Interesting Sight.

commission, the New York public library, and hundreds of other interesting places are on this upper New York trip.

Back at the Times Square terminal, the tourists will view the Times motogram bulletin, the largest of its kind in the world.

From Times square, the party will start on a tour of lower New York, seeing the Chrysler building, the Empire state building, the University of the City of New York, the Woolworth, Metropolitan, Manhattan bank and "Flatiron" buildings, the "Tomb," Wall street, Washington arch, Trinity church, the Brooklyn bridge, and again, dozens of other places.

The tour will be taken in glass especially for sightseeing, and chartered by the sponsors of this trip that the winners might enjoy to the fullest their tour of New York City.

Christians Trip Waldo, 44-42 To Take Church Title

LOSERS FORCE GAME INTO EXTRA PERIOD

Market & Lewis Five Wins as Seventh Y Tournament Gets Under Way.

Central Christian Sunday school basketball team added new laurels to those already won last night by turning back Waldo Reformed church team, 44-42 to win the city county court championship. One overtime period was played before the Christians won out by the two-point margin. Central Christians recently won the city championship and Waldo is the winner of the county church league.

Two other games were played on the Y. M. C. A. court last night as the seventh annual Y county cage tournament got under way. The Castle Torch club team, a class B competitor, won from the Vernon Aces by a 27-10 score and the Markert & Lewis five of Marion turned back the Blayney Buicks of Mt. Gilead 39-24 in a class A clash. The tournament will continue on the Y court tonight with a pair of girls' division contests.

Play Overtime
Central Christians and Waldo Reformed put on a great contest for the church championship. Waldo trailed the Christians most of the way until a last period rally brought about a 39-39 deadlock as the final gun cracked and forced the game into an overtime period. The Christians led by a 24-20 score at the halfway point.

W. Renger and H. Strine led the scoring for Waldo with 13 and 15 points respectively. Vic Gillis racked up 14 for the Christians and Lantz added another 13.

It took almost half of the first period for the Markert & Lewis five to get under way in the battle with the Blayney Buicks of Mt. Gilead but when the hibernation finally got started the Mt. Gilead five was left far behind.

With Ben Gilmore and Bud Partridge leading the scoring attack, Markert & Lewis took a 6-8 lead by the end of the first period and ran the count to 18-4 by the end of the first half. The Buicks failed to do much about getting back in the game in the third period but rallied in the final frame and outscored the winners by a considerable margin. The lead, however, was too great to overcome in a single frame.

Gilmore scored 14 points and Partridge 10 for the winners. K. O.

GIRLS' TOURNEY STARTS TONIGHT

The girls' division of the Y county basketball tournament will get its first taste of competition tonight on the Y court. The Claridon Independents will meet the Waldo Aces in the first game, to start at 7:30 p. m. Following the Claridon-Waldo clash, the Marion Business college girls will collide with the LaRue Independents. There will be no boys' games tonight.

The lineups of all of the four girls' teams will be dotted with former scholastic stars of the district surrounding Marion.

HORNSBY TO REPLACE CUB RECRUITS WHEN BRUINS NEED ADDED PUNCH

MANAGER HORNSBY

Rogers Hornsby, Chicago Cub pilot, is going to keep Stanley Hack and Billy Herman, rookie third and second basemen, under close scrutiny during the 1932 season, and the minute he detects a falling off in batting the Rajah himself is going to step in. Hornsby expects to appear in around 100 games.

Around the Training Camps

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO—Unless his new talent gives him some agreeable surprises in the form of base hits, Rogers Hornsby will be in the Chicago Cubs' lineup more often next season than he was in 1931.

Never considered a sensational fielder, the Rajah, now 38, still feels his batting power and skill. He expects to play in about 100 games, approximately two-thirds of the scheduled list.

The lack of batting punch, Hornsby thinks, may be keenly felt next summer with Hack Wilson gone, Riggs Stephenson's legs ailing, and Charles Grimm and Gabby Hartnett beginning to slow up.

Kiki Cuyler will be back in the outfield, and Woody English, shortstop, has made his mark as a fielder and hitter.

But the rest of the lineup is in the experimental stage, and batting power is more doubtful than fielding class.

Stanley Hack and Billy Herman, rookies tentatively listed for third and second base, respectively, may find their manager supplanting them frequently in the coming campaign in games where a few timely bingles will make a big difference.

Bill Jurgens is another third sacker of upproved ability at the plate, while Vince Barton, Danny Taylor, Johnny Moore and Mike Kreevich are outfielders who may find it hard to duplicate the swatting accomplishments of Wilson and Stephenson.

Hornsby ran into physical hardships in 1930 when he had an operation to remove a bone growth on one heel and, shortly after recovery, fractured his other ankle. He looked slow after the season, but his batting eye seemed to have lost none of its keenness or his shoulders their driving power.

His campaign for himself at the Cubs' Catalina Island camp in an effort to recapture his old ability.

ST. PETERSBURG—Bill Aker's charley horse is proving more serious than was at first supposed. Charley horses are his stumbling blocks. Last training season, while with the Tigers, Bill spent the opening days in the same manner.

LOS ANGELES—Lance Liebhour, who was obtained over the winter from the Boston Braves, may land the cleanup job in the Cub batting order this year.

The ex-Brave was shuffled into that important role yesterday for the seventh exhibition game against the New York Giants and greatly pleased Manager Rogers Hornsby.

In two other shake-ups in the Cub batting line, Billy Herman batted second while "Woody" English was in sixth.

STORM SIGNALS UP FOR TENNIS STARS

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 16—Storm signals were hoisted for all three members of the French contingent in the national indoor tennis championships today.

Jean Borotra, defending champion, ran up against Berkeley Bell of New York; Christian Bousquet was matched with Gregory S. Mangin of Newark; and Antoine Gentien tackled Julius Seligson of New York.

Borotra and Bell, a step ahead of the field, gained the quarter-finals yesterday in two other shake-ups. The French veterans turned back young Eddie Jacobs of Baltimore, 7-5, 6-3, while Bell was disposing of Ernest Koslan of Hamilton, N. Y., 6-2.

GOLDEN GLOVES BOYS TO BATTLE FRIDAY FOR FIGHT CROWNS

Ten Bouts Scheduled for Simon Pures in Eagles' Hall Arena.

Two semi-final and eight championship battles are on the books for Friday night of this week at the Eagles' hall when the first Golden Gloves amateur boxing tournament is brought to a conclusion here. The battles this week will mark the third set in which the best amateur mitt slingers in this section have banged each other around the square circle in quest of the eight awards which go to the winners of the eight divisions of fist warfare.

Finals Scheduled
When these two three rounders have been completed the boys who have already fought their way up to a shot at the championship of their particular division will swing into action. Paul Kappale and Howard Hostetter, a pair of 114 pounders, will battle it out for the featherweight championship.

In the next conflict, K. O. Rinkert of Bucyrus will lock horns with Eddie Collins of Marion in the 120 pound class.

Bob Smith and Harry Miller of Marion, a pair of 135 pounders, will trade wallop in the next four round title clash after which Art Amick and Matt Kellogg, both of Marion, will battle it out at 145 pounds.

Byron Warfel of Upper Sandusky and George Spawn of Marion will settle their argument over the 165 pound crown in the next fight and the 170 pound title will be at stake when Harold Seber of Delaware and "Tuffy" Rowland of Bucyrus meet in the next bout.

Semi-Finalists Return
The boys who fought in the first two semi-final bouts will return for action in the last two fights of the 10-battle program. The winner of the K. O. Stout-Don Greenland mixup will meet Joe Rathell, Ralph Barnhart will battle the winner of the Frankie Blue-Bob Little fight in the last contest of the program.

Both Rathell and Barnhart are Marion boys. The Seber-Rowland championship battle will be the only one of the entire card which will match two out-of-town boys.

All of the championship bouts will be four rounds. The two semi-finals bouts will go three.

BILOXI—Spurred by a 5 to 4 victory over the Baltimore Orioles in yesterday's opening game of the training season here the Washington Senators journeyed to nearby Guilford today for a return contest.

LOS ANGELES—John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, has discovered a new reason why he doesn't want Hugh Critz, second baseman, to have any more trouble with his throwing arm. McGraw doesn't want to move Freddy Lindstrom back to the infield.

ST. PETERSBURG—Henry Johnson, one of the New York Yankees' best right handers, has returned to the training camp after several weeks' absence. He recently underwent an operation for appendicitis.

CLEARWATER—The boys are ringing the classes in on Professor Max Carey's Brooklyn Dodgers but they win just the same. On Sunday they played against Cicero of the Reds, and yesterday it was Virgil Davis and Homer Dudley of the Phillies.

LIGHTS OUT, BOYS

Final Act of Babe Ruth-Col. Rupert Play Ready To Start.

By The Associated Press
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 16—That celebrated dramatic sketch labeled the "Signing of Babe Ruth," with sound effects, was due for the big climax today, with our hero wielding a fountain pen in the act of helping Col. Jacob Rupert save the old Yankee home-stand.

Barring some villainous hitch in the old-fashioned script, the Babe and the Colonel were expected to reach a final agreement at a conference today.

The consensus is that Ruth will win a compromise from his employer to the extent of getting a presidential salary of $75,000 for 1932 only.

Up to a late hour neither the Babe nor the Colonel had in so many words indicated any recession from their original positions, the athlete insisting upon $80,000 for one year and the owner standing pat on $75,000.

Ruth, although declining to discuss any figures, said he expected to sign today.

LIONS PLACE THREE ON HONORARY TEAM

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 16—Columbia places three men and Yale and Cornell one each on the all-league team picked annually for the Associated Press by the six coaches of the eastern intercollegiate basketball league.

Columbia's representatives are Captain Lou Bender and Dave Jones at the guard posts and Owen McDowell at center. The forwards are Lou Hattoff of Cornell and Earl Nikkel of Yale.

GROLL SHOOT 403 BUT LOSES MATCH

Lloyd Groll cracked out a total of 403 points last night in a pistol club match at the police station range but even this high score wasn't enough to enable his No. 3 team to chalk up a victory. Groll's team could collect a total of only 1668 points against 1685 for the No. 4 team led by Lawrence Schneider.

High scores for the winning team were Schneider with 376 and C. F. Keeler with 328. Groll was high point man for the losers with his 403 and Grant S. Price was second with 388.

Fireworks Fail To "Explode" N.C.O. League Moguls Conv

Despite the widely heralded belief that considerable fireworks would be "shot off" when the governing board of the North Central Ohio league met yesterday, nothing of unusual importance came out of the session.

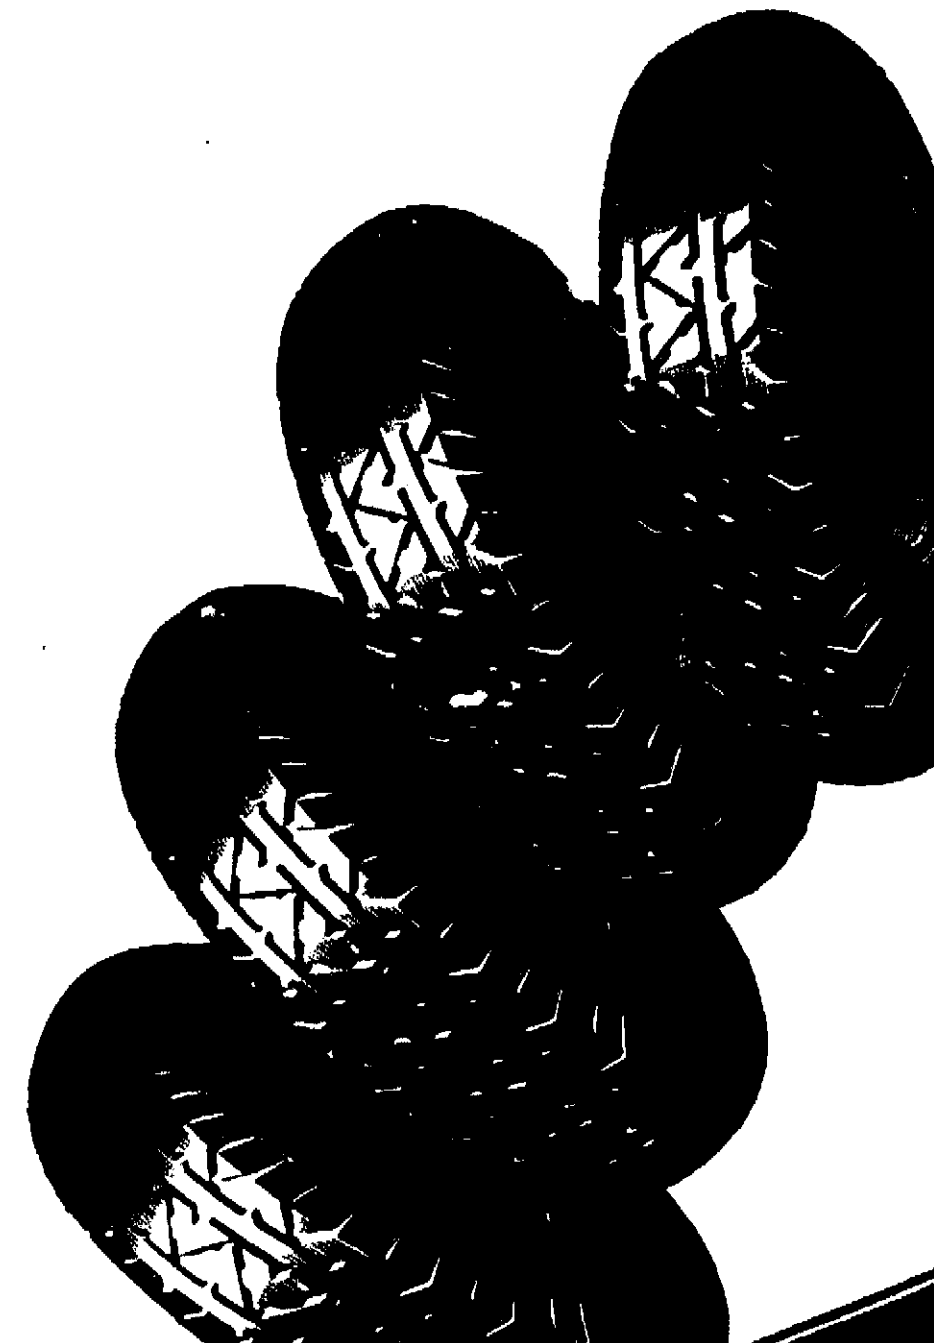

The recent withdrawal of Bucyrus from the circuit and the possible application of at least one other school to take the place created by the Redmen had been expected to cause considerable discussion. However, the league rulers took the stand, K. H. Marshall of Harding High school says, that Bucyrus had withdrawn and there was nothing to be done about it so a long discussion would not be necessary.

No new member will be added to the league this year, Marshall stated on his return from the meeting. Tiffin Junior Order home of Tiffin has indicated a desire to get in the league but has no formal application and no action will be extended the this year.

The board discussed the ing of officials for the next ball season and voted to allow six cents a mile one way per game. The list of officials named.

LOCAL DAMAGE CASE SETTLED

Howard Andrews Gets $7,500 In Death of Wife at Upper Sandusky.

Special to The Star
UPPER SANDUSKY, March 16—The $50,000 damage suit brought against the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. and M. Mahaffey of Marion, administrator of his wife's estate, was settled Tuesday morning and a jury was directed to return a verdict of $7,500 to Howard Andrews.

The case was the result of an accident that occurred April 5, 1931, when an auto containing Mrs. Howard Andrews, Harry Barrick and Mrs. Emma Mahaffey stalled on the main street crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad in this city and was struck by an eastbound freight. All of the occupants of the auto were injured and Mrs. Andrews died on April 6.

The settlement was agreed upon without the case being heard and the jury, which had just completed hearing another case, was directed to bring in a verdict. The railroad company paid $6,000 and the balance is said to have been paid by an insurance company and represents the liability of the owner of the car in which Mrs. Andrews was riding.

Andrews was represented by Attorneys Puert & Brown of Cleveland, Attorneys A. K. Hall and H. L. Mason of this city, represented the defendant, M. Mahaffey, and Attorneys Neville & Cory of Lima, the railroad company.

Fined on Charge of Stealing Cigarettes from Wrecked Cars.

UPPER SANDUSKY, March 16—Twenty-three men were arrested Tuesday by Sheriff Lawrence Weatherholtz, Deputies Fred L. Jones and Larry Martz and C. & O. railroad detectives, charged with removing cigarettes or other merchandise from wrecked C. & O. cars.

It is reported that most of the men arrested were employed as workmen at the wreck or were regular section men. Most of the arrests were made at the camp at Harpster where the men, who are from Delaware, Marion and Morrow counties, were being housed.

Following the wreck a large group of workmen were rushed to the scene to begin clearing away the wreckage. During the day a car containing merchandise was unloaded and later the merchandise was reloaded on another train. It is alleged that the workmen took part of the merchandise during this time.

The men were arraigned before Justice of the Peace F. E. Weldon late yesterday afternoon and each pleaded guilty to the charge. They were each given a fine of $10 and costs amounting to $18.71. One of the men gave bond for the payment of his fine while the others were placed in the county jail.

BUCYRUS TO ISSUE BONDS FOR $15,000

Money Will Be Used To Finish Hospital; Orders Purchase of Stoker.

Special to The Star
BUCYRUS, March 16—City council passed a resolution last night authorizing City Auditor Constance R. Keller to make an advance draw on the county treasurer for $15,000. Council also passed an ordinance providing for the issuance of $15,000 in bonds for equipment of the City hospital and to take care of the expense of grading, landscaping and construction of sidewalks.

The city will advertise for bids for the widening and resurfacing of east Warren street from south Sandusky avenue to the New York Central railroad. The city will buy a stoker for the city water works plant, 1,000 tons of coal, 60 tons of alum and 1,000 tons of crushed stone for street repairs.

Mayor Arthur Schuler vetoed the ordinance to combine the position of bookkeeper at City hospital with that of city safety director and fixing the salary at $1,200 a year. In his veto message the mayor said he believed the bookkeeper should be paid from hospital revenues and also voiced the opinion that the place should be held by a woman.

STOCK MARKET HAS DULL DAY

Early Morning Rally Gives Way to Receding Values Later.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 16—The stock market was called on today to assimilate further unfavorable dividend actions and reports of lessened business activity as registered in important trade barometers, but turned dull on a generally moderate reaction.

Losses, while general, were mostly small, although some specialties reached sharply. An early morning rally gave way to receding values, as market technicians voiced considerable skepticism over further advance at this time because of the apathy of the rails.

The carrier stocks bore the main burden of what little selling appeared.
